

September 20th, 2021

Dear Valued Customer,

Due to the unprecedented continuing increases in transportation, raw materials and other inflationary costs, Fineline will increase pricing by 6% on all orders shipping out after October 25th, 2021. Some selected items may increase more than 6%.

The pricing on direct container imports and on custom print jobs will be increased effective immediately.

Fineline has been absorbing astronomical ocean freight increases for several months, hoping that rates will not continue to rise. However, the costs are continuing to increase and has now reached a level of 8 x the original ocean freight costs and therefore forced Fineline to announce this price increase.

Certain selected items were impacted even more and therefore pricing will be increased in correspondence with current shipping rates. The pricing will be updated on your new price list as well on a separate price list for your easy reference.

POD contracts will not automatically be renewed at expiration dates, all active contracts will be honored until its expiration.

Due to the unprecedented situation all orders shipped out after October 25th will be invoiced at the increased pricing.

Your Fineline sales representative will be reaching out to share updated price lists after October 1st.

We will continue to make every effort possible to get through these market conditions with minimal disruption. As always, we value and appreciate your business!

Sincerely,

Abraham Feig
CEO
