

Manufacturers of Fine Food Products

Corporate:

1 D'Angelo Drive P.O. Box 849 Marlborough, MA 01752 (508) 229-1100	155 King Mill Road McDonough, GA 30253 (770) 898-8000 Fax: (770) 898-0510	8925 Ken's Court Las Vegas, NV 89139 (702) 932-6400 Fax: (702) 932-6465	917 Edwards Drive Lebanon, IN 46052 (765) 505-7900 Fax: (765) 505-7907
---	--	--	---

TO: All Ken's Foods Customers
FROM: Ken's Foodservice Sales
DATE: Jan 30, 2026
RE: National Price List

Ken's Foods is updating list prices effective for orders placed on or after March 15, 2026. Attached to this communication you will find our revised National Price List.

Summary

This price list adjustment is being made to reflect recent changes in both the commodity markets and the regulatory environment, including a rapid decrease in bulk egg yolk costs, an inflationary soybean oil market, and adjustments required to comply with new state regulations. While this revised price list contains both increases and decreases (item-dependent), a recent reduction in egg costs has enabled us to decrease pricing in aggregate.

Bulk Egg Yolks

The egg commodity pricing surge that roiled markets beginning in late 2024 had only partially receded by early December 2025, with average prices remaining roughly double their previous baseline. Within the last several weeks, however, market prices for egg products have fallen substantially. While it remains uncertain where the market price for bulk egg yolks will stabilize, it seems clear – barring substantial additional outbreaks of Avian Influenza – that it should land well below 2025 prices.

Soybean Oil

The recent increase in fuel costs driven by both meteorological and geopolitical events, coupled with market expectations for the confirmation of an EPA-proposed biofuel mandate increase that will drive strong additional demand for soybean oil from large fuel refiners has driven a roughly 10% increase in the market price for soybean oil.

Food Dyes

With a multitude of regulatory actions enacted across a patchwork of states, with many more proposed, we are actively reformulating many of our products to discontinue use of synthetic food dyes. Finding, testing and procuring replacements for these ingredients requires a substantial investment which we have begun to reflect in pricing for impacted items.

Bracket Pricing

As a reminder, all orders are to be priced at the bracket price that coincides with the weight of the order.

Order Size and Delivery

Note that the attached prices apply to all orders placed on or after March 15th, 2026. Orders placed before this date must not exceed historical purchase patterns and must be delivered within 10 working days. The lead time associated with this announcement is intended to give our customers ample time to effectively manage their inventory.

Ken's Foods appreciates your business. Please contact your Ken's sales representative with questions.