Dear Valued Customer.

We realize that we are operating in very difficult circumstances and market conditions. We continue to try to stay ahead of the curve however, supply chain, raw materials and goods change daily.

We have had several further discussions in Phoenix regarding our impending price increase in September. We have determined after exhausting reviews of the markets, our competitive environment and mostly our valued relationships with our distributors and food service / retail customers to hold off and eliminate our September price increase.

Our sales team working closely with Management at Klein Pickle has made this decision to ensure we move through the balance of the calendar with no further interruptions to our distributors and our end user customer.

Klein Pickle will continue to evaluate the markets and work diligently with and through our distributor partnership.

Klein values our relationship with you and is focused on continued development and growth together.

Thank you, sincerely:

Jeffrey Knapp

Vice President
